PRESS RELEASE

TO: Marquette County Media

FROM: Mary Harris, LMSW, Health Educator, Marquette County Health Department

DATE: 04/18/18

SUBJECT: Value of Prevention: It Takes You

Marquette County Cares (MC²) is a coalition of community members working together to promote a safe, healthy, and supportive community. With funding from the Northcare Network, MC² utilizes the Communities That Care model as a structure for evaluating the risk and protective factors in our community and helping OUR community put programs in place to address these factors.

Marquette County Cares encourages the community to attend our 3rd Value of Prevention event, It Takes You. The focus of this series is promoting protective factors in our community, including recognition of pro-social involvement. Join us as we introduce skills to build resilience in youth and help us model these skills in our community. All events are free to the public and open to all ages.

Value of Prevention: It Takes You:
April 23, 2018, 5:45 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.
Peterson Auditorium, Ishpeming High School

Join us for a free night at the movies! Marquette County Cares' 2018 Winning Youth PSAs will be shown for the first time. Come celebrate with Marquette County Youth as we announce the winners for 2018, beginning at 5:45 p.m.

The movie, HEAL, directed by Kelly Noonan Gores, will be shown directly after the awards. The movie takes us on a scientific and spiritual journey where we discover that our thoughts, beliefs, and emotions have a huge impact on our health and ability to heal. Through these inspiring and emotional stories, we find out what works, what doesn't, and why. HEAL is being shown courtesy of Marquette County Cares, the Marquette County Health Department and Ishpeming High School.

Please, contact Mary Harris at (906) 315-2613 with any questions.
